Charges against pastor on hold

By Peter Crosby

Two charges of gross indecency against the pastor of a Didsbury area church were stayed in Calgary provincial court last week.

Pastor Mark Prokopetz of Mountain View Missionary Church, east of Didsbury, had been charged Nov. 22 as the result of complaints filed in Port Coquitlam, B.C. alleging that two boys, aged 14 and 15 at the time, had been fondled in 1984.

Pastor Prokopetz was released from custody last Wednesday after the Crown decided against proceeding with the charges at this time.

The 34-year-old minister was arrested at his home by Didsbury RCMP on Nov. 21, acting on warrants issued by Calgary City Police.

He is also charged with fraud in connection with the disappearance of $6,000 worth of building materials from Father Lacombe Centre near Fish Creek Park.

He elected to be tried by judge on jury on the fraud charge.

Rev. Prokopetz had been employed as head of the maintenance department at the Father Lacombe Centre before moving to Didsbury as pastor of the Mountain View Missionary Church earlier this year.

Rev. David Crouse, district superintendent of the Missionary Church of Canada, said the church was standing behind Mark and his family and expected him to be exonerated.

The charges again brought a suggestion from the local legal profession that such information be kept out of the local media unless the accused is convicted.

"Once a charge has been laid, the accused is guilty in the public's eye," one Didsbury lawyer said. "The papers never report when he's found not guilty."

Vehicles lose battle to icy road

By Peter Crosby

Didsbury fire department responded to two calls for help Saturday as black ice sent motorists reeling along Highway 2.

The first call at about 10:30 a.m. was to assist Mountain View Ambulance in an accident involving a bus and a car.

"We never did find it," said fire chief Gary Halfyard. "Apparently one of the vehicles had rear-ended the other and it was cleared up by the time we got out there."

The second call, about two hours later, was to further assist Mountain View Ambulance with a second traffic accident near the Didsbury overpass.

"A southbound vehicle somehow ended up on its roof in the northbound lanes," said Halfyard. Four occupants were taken to Mountain View Health Care Centre by a passing motorist.

Their identities and the extent of their injuries were not known.

"The highway was pretty well bare most of the way except in some open areas where the blowing wind was creating patches of black ice," said Halfyard.

Frosty Friday

Winter's chill hangs over downtown Didsbury these days, nearly freezing the exhaust of motor vehicles and sending people scurrying for warmth in places like the post office.

Council invites public questions

By Peter Crosby

In an effort to improve communication, Didsbury town council has allotted time for a question and answer period at the outset of each council meeting.

The public will be allowed to question council about town policies for a 15-minute period prior to each council session.

"The idea is to try and allow the public to be updated on what's going on," said Chief Administrative Officer Mike Storey.

"It's not for delegations seeking resolutions . . . it's meant to be more of a general information session," said Mr. Storey.

Instead of having a coffee shop meeting where discussions could end up in shouting matches, it was decided that more order could be maintained by holding a question and answer period in council chambers, calling for a measure of decorum.

Council meets the first and third Tuesdays of each month, including tonight's session starting at 7:30.

Christmas Helpers Need You!

The giving spirit of Christmas is starting to grow in Didsbury with the annual start of the Christmas Helper program. Every year needy families are helped out by the program with the delivery of food hampers.

Last year the program helped out 57 families in the Didsbury area.

In order to fill all of those hampers, the Christmas Helpers need help from local residents. Boxes will be in all grocery stores and at the schools. We are looking for non-perishable food items and good used and/or new toys, cash donations will also be accepted.

The group is also looking for names of families who would greatly benefit from this project. The names and complete addresses can be forwarded to Linda Sirt 335-2378, or Linda Regner at 335-3161 or 335-3629. All names will be kept strictly confidential. Hampers, which will include a turkey, will be delivered on Dec. 21.

Rambler fans come through

Fans of the Didsbury Ramblers came through in fine style at the Chinook Hockey League team's home game Sunday.

Fans were admitted free of charge if they brought a non-perishable food item for donation to Didsbury's Christmas Helpers program.

"I was really impressed," said Christmas Helpers coordinator Linda Sirt. "I had enough to fill the trunk of my car. It was more than I expected."

Donation boxes open this week at food stores in Didsbury and at the post office. Cash donations to Christmas Helpers can be made by contacting the Didsbury Missionary Church.

Hampers will be distributed Dec. 21 and Sirt said it's important that donations be received as soon as possible.

The Ramblers and their fans helped kick off this annual program in a very positive way, she said.

Progress on new sewer line

—Work to be completed in spring

By Peter Crosby

Work on a new sewer line in southwest Didsbury is 60 to 70 per cent complete, said Chief Administrative Officer Mike Storey at the town office Friday.

"The contractor [Blue-Con Excavating of Calgary] is mopping up their operations on the weekend," Mr. Storey said.

The remainder of the work is expected to be completed in the spring.

The $745,000 line, deemed necessary to control on-going flooding problems in the area, runs east of 23rd Street, along 12th Avenue to the town's sewage lagoon on the eastern boundary.

The new line has been laid from east to west, starting at the lagoon and reaching an area along 12th Avenue, south of Gole's Feed Mill.

A tie-in will be made at 21st Street and 15th Avenue.

The new 18-inch line replaces a 10-inch line along 15th Avenue. Engineers and town officials are confident the bigger line will be able to handle the sometimes heavy flow from the downtown, Southridge and Westhill areas.

OPINIONS/EDITORIAL

Where are those cards?

By Peter Crosby

Lately I've been thinking of calling my mother. Dollar signs have been dancing in my head.

It's about those great card collections I used to have.

They started with baseball in the mid-fifties. Then there was hockey, Elvis, Davy Crockett and Zorro.

"Any idea where those are Mom?"

Don't tell me, I know. Ford, Berra, Mantle, Maris, Williams, Campanella, Hodges, Reese, Podres, Koufax, Kaline, Clemente, Aaron, Mathews, Mays, Dusty Rhodes all rotting in some landfill.

A veritable fortune in today's market.

Back in 1956, my friends and I didn't think those cards were worth anymore than the five cents we'd spend for a pack of five, including great Topps bubblegum. In fact, the bubblegum was almost as good as the cards. Tasted better too.

But we still recognized the big guns. When my friend George came up with Ted Williams, I nearly drooled all over it. Williams' card showed he'd hit better than 500 home runs, only a couple of hundred back of the Babe. The Splendid Splinter had been the last player to hit more than .400 in a season.

George was a big Yankee fan and he wanted almost my entire Yankee collection, which included the very popular Yogi Berra. As 10-year-olds we found his name very amusing.

But George drove a hard bargain. He wanted Berra, the left-handed Yankee ace Whitey Ford and Gil McDougald, the 'clutch' shortstop.

I hated the Yanks but we were talking championship bloodlines. And I loved this crazy smile Berra wore.

George wouldn't settle for less than a three-for-one deal. But I couldn't give him all those damn Yankees.

I suggested Berra, Ford and (wait for it), Jimmy Greengrass.

Greengrass wasn't a Yank. In fact, he was a long way from pinstripes. He was a utility infielder (that's what they used to call second-stringers) who'd bounced around with St. Louis and Cincinnati. And he was one of those players who seemed to pop up in about every second pack of cards I bought. I had at least seven of them.

Somehow, George hadn't been so lucky. He didn't know Jimmy Greengrass from Gus Triandos. But he liked the name and agreed to the deal: Berra, Ford and the great Jimmy Greengrass for Ted Williams, the greatest leftfielder and left-handed hitter the Red Sox would ever know (with apologies to Yaz).

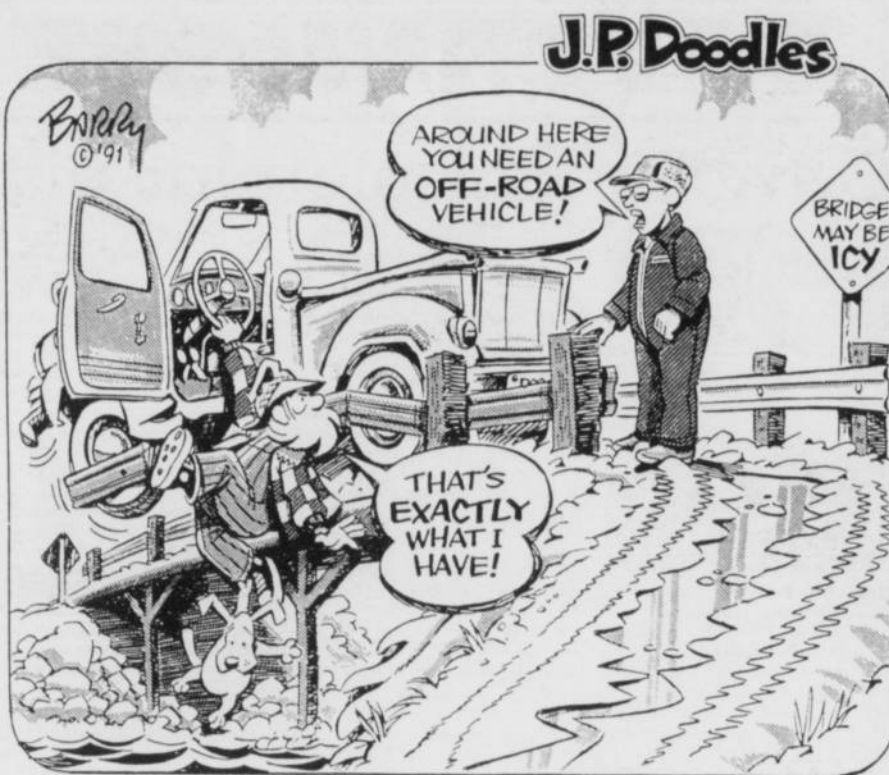

I think George got even a month or two later when I dealt an unknown lefty named Koufax for Hank Sauer, the old Cubbie. Hank was pretty well washed up a year later while Sandy Koufax went on to become a Hall Of Fame Dodger.

I had these stacks of cards around my room, usually under my bed and there didn't seem to be any attempt to organize them as they do now. Or that my have been my formerly messy nature.

Hockey cards were an easier matter. There were only six teams and if you didn't have the full set by February, you were really slow.

The Crockett, Elvis and Zorro cards fell somewhere in the abbreviated off-season between baseball and hockey and helped fill the bubblegum void.

Use Heritage Fund to pay down debt

Dear Editor:

Don Getty and Dick Johnston should sit down and discuss the Heritage Fund, so they could at least get their stories straight. Getty says that they are going to sell the fund to pay off Alberta's huge (and growing) debt, while Johnston says they have 'another plan.' I don't think that they have any plan at all, and all the political posturing in the world is not going to change that.

As leader of the Liberal Opposition, I have consistently proposed sale of the liquid assets of the Heritage Fund in order to pay down the $14.7 billion dollar of debt incurred by the Tories in just a few years. It simply does not make sense to have a huge unpaid Visa bill when we have money in our savings account!

Fiscal responsibility was a cornerstone of my strategy when I was mayor of Edmonton, and remains a pillar of my program in provincial politics. Balanced budget financing, funding of capital projects on a current basis and, above all, debt reduction are the actions that lead to a strong fiscal position for our province. I would not use money from the Heritage Fund to pay for current overspending, as the Getty government does each year.

The Getty government has to make a decision. They can't continue to sit idly by while the debt of this province continues to grow. They have to make a hard decision to lead, not just drift along without direction. Our future is at stake.

Sincerely yours,
Laurence Decore,
Leader, Alberta Liberal Opposition

Where are world perspectives?

Dear Editor:

The article by Henry Goerzen in The Review was informative as to what the Mennonite people 'also' have gone through and persecuted for their belief in God, and having gone through such atrocities as rape and murder; where are the human rights that some governments are promoting?

In Central America and Nicaragua in particular there were atrocities committed against innocent people by the Contras, the former Somosa Troops, who terrorized by torture.

On the morning of May 26, 1987, 150 Contras came and shot up the village of Moncotal, set fire to 10 houses, murdered and kidnapped the girls for rape, shot a 15-year-old digging in the well. The tractor and water tank the only source for water that "Change For Children" organization by Hank Zyp of Edmonton had donated was shot full of holes and set afire.

I wept when I saw the aftermath of his this massacre, the people had nothing at best and then endured the sorrow of the murdered family members, a tin can for a cooking pot, and a torn plastic held up with a stick for a roof over a pit.

I was in Jinotega in the carpenter shop on the equipment

I had donated (the month of June '87) and went along with Grant Babilitz and 20 personnel with food--rice and beans--for the starving rest as the Contras had robbed everything.

If only the world could know through the media what suffering takes place; where are our world's perspectives? There are 7 million homeless children in Brazil, and one slum contains 200,000. And on the T.V. it showed Canadian government is spending $750,000 on Royal visits.

Olds

Environment Week funding available

To encourage Canadians to become partners in protecting the environment, Environment Canada will again make funding available to groups who would like to carry out Environment Week projects. Environment Week, which will be held June 1-7 in 1992, is a community outreach program designed to increase public action to protect the environment on a long-term basis.

In Alberta, $100,000 will be allocated to enable non-profit organizations such as environmental, recreational and youth groups, to organize projects that involve the community in local, practical projects that will have a positive impact on the environment.

Applications packages are available from Environment Canada Communications offices in Edmonton and Calgary, as well as the Environment Week Association in Edmonton and the Eco-Centre in Calgary.

GOVERNMENT NEWS

Government plan for plain language

Hon. Roy Brassard, MLA
Olds-Didsbury Constituency
Dennis Anderson, Minister of Alberta Consumer and Corporate Affairs has announced the government-wide Plain Language Program which was recently approved by Cabinet. The Alberta Government has an obligation to communicate to the public in a way they can understand and this program aims to ensure that public documents are written in clear and precise language. Government departments will be encouraged to use plain language in their day-to-day writing, and will be required to have forms, educational materials and regulations in plain language according to a timetable established by Cabinet.

This timetable requires all correspondence to the public to be in plain language by Dec. 31, 1992. By Dec. 31, 1993 all applications and forms will be in plain language and by Dec. 31, 1994 all education and promotional materials will be in plain language. By Dec. 31, 1995 all regulations requiring Ministerial approval must be written in plain language. Five years from now, that is by Dec. 31, 1996, all remaining public documents will be in more clear and concise language.

Some departments have already been working on clarifying forms and legislation. One of the first steps taken was the passing of the Financial Consumers Act in June of 1990. This Act is written in plain language and by 1992 will require plain language from those it regulates which is a first in the Commonwealth. Other departments are drafting annual reports, regulations and some forms using the principles of plain language—clearly understandable words and a readable format.

In addition, the process for developing government-wide plain language seminars has begun. These seminars will deal with writing techniques which focus on the specific audience receiving information and will also eliminate jargon which is so often found in government documents.

The private sector is also interested in plain language initiatives. For example, the Alberta Real Estate Association is already developing new real estate documents which will be in use next year. The Consumer's Association of Canada (Alberta) has developed a plain language home renovation contract. This is confirmation that we can make contracts and written materials easier for everyone to understand and use.

Alberta's plain language program is an innovative and progressive tool challenging business and all levels of government across the country to use plain language for the creation of a more open and fair marketplace. I look forward to participating in this government-wide program which will improve the quality of service, reduce errors and benefit all Albertans.

If you would like more information on this program, or just want to voice your concerns, please call me at our constituency office 556-3132 or my Edmonton office at 422-0141 (collect).

An interim payment of $5 a tonne for designated barley 1990/91 crop year, which ended July 31, 1991, has been announced.

An adjustment to the Canadian Wheat Board initial payment for designated barley has been announced. The increase is effective Dec. 3, and reflects current market and price outlook for 1991/92 crop year. The following is the difference between the announced initial payment of July 25 and the new payment: July 25 Special Select Canada $1.96/BU - Dec. 3 - $2.39/BU and Western Two-Row Barley July 25 $90/Tonne - Dec. 3 $110/Tonne. In the case of wheat, Durum wheat and feed barley, the Federal Government will monitor market and price conditions and make adjustments where warranted.

Agriculture - Transportation Talks

Beginning in January 1992, producers will have an opportunity to tell Federal and Provincial Agriculture Ministers their views on proposals for the future direction of Canada's grain transportation system. Agriculture Minister Bill McKnight announced that a comprehensive, work-shop style consultation and information program called "Transportation Talks" will begin in January. The number of meetings will vary by province according to level of interest. "Transportation Talks" is the result of a decision made at a Federal-Provincial Agriculture Ministers meeting here in Wild Rose last July. Ministers directed their officials to organize grassroots level consultations and an information program.

Green Plan Initiative encourages Canadians to submit innovative proposals for the environment.

Canadians with innovative solutions to today's environmental problems now have an avenue for their proposals. The new $20 million Environmental Innovation Program (EIP), is a Green Plan Initiative designed to fund Innovative Research and Development Proposals on the environment. The program will operate by contracts rather than grants and will be managed by Environment Canada and Administered by Supply and Services Canada. Contracts will be awarded under EIP for ideas which will result in tangible new environmental products, processes, or services. Proposals are expected from all sectors of Canadian society, including industry, the universities, environmental non-government organizations and individuals.

Tax Instalment System

Changes have been made to simplify the payment of quarterly Income Tax Instalments by individuals. This measure will be of direct benefit to over one million Canadians, including the self-employed, and over 400,000 senior citizens. Beginning with the March 1992 Instalment, individuals will no longer have to calculate the amount of their quarterly tax payment. Instead, Revenue Canada will inform them of the exact amount of their Instalment Payment. Taxpayers using this system will not be subject to interest charges or penalties, even if these payments fall short of their total tax liability for the year. Information available on request.

Constitutional reform is about many things.

But mostly it's about you.

As Canadians, we are now facing one of the most important challenges in our history. Proposals have been put forward by the Government of Canada to improve our Constitution. These proposals, for a more united and prosperous Canada in which all Canadians can feel at home, are currently being reviewed by a special parliamentary committee. They will also be considered by a series of conferences run by independent Canadian organizations.

Some of the proposals include:

- ◆ a Canada clause that speaks of our hopes and dreams as Canadians, our values, our diversity, our tolerance and our generosity of spirit

- ◆ recognizing the right of aboriginal peoples to govern themselves while being protected by Canadian law
- ◆ ensuring recognition of Quebec's distinctiveness and of minority language groups
- ◆ reforming the Senate to make it elected, effective and much more equitable than it is now
- ◆ strengthening Canada's economic union so Canadians can work and conduct business anywhere in the country
- ◆ guaranteeing property rights.

AGRICULTURAL NEWS

Farm rallies confirm growing crisis

Farm rallies held across the Prairies have confirmed the validity of farm organizations' earlier warnings about the growing income crisis in the grain sector, according to Unifarm President Hartmann Nagel. Attendance at the rallies by thousands of farmers also has demonstrated clearly that producers can work together to send a loud and clear message to governments and the public at large, he says.

The head of Alberta's general farm organization says Unifarm will press for speedy delivery of the recently announced federal aid program. Noting that Ottawa's offer covers just over half of the $1.3 billion identified by farm groups as the minimum required to deal with the Prairie cash crunch, Nagel says the provincial government has been asked to make up the balance required in this province.

Nagel says Unifarm has urged the provincial government to fully re-instate the Farm Fuel Distribution Allowance program, the Fertilizer Price Protection Plan and the Farm Credit Stability Program.

The Unifarm president, who has personally attended most of the rallies held in Alberta, says the anger, the frustration and the impatience shown by most farmers and the resignation displayed by some should be easy to understand. Prairie farm organizations have been working to end the burgeoning crisis since the mid 80's when Europe began practicing economic terrorism, Nagel says. He points out that through the combined efforts of established organizations about $2.2 billion was pumped directly into the grains, oilseeds and (some) special crops sectors over a two year period through the Special Canadian Grains Program to offset some of the price decline caused by the European/United States trade war.

The job is to get emergency aid in place now and, at the same time, remind taxpayers that primary producers receive negligible amounts for the nutritious high quality ingredients that go into the nation's food supply, and that the grain sector contributes about $5.8 billion to the country's balance of trade, says Nagel. In the longer term producers must continue to be active in planning for any orderly adjustments that might be required. Producers must also stick together in insisting that Ottawa take a firm stand in the GATT talks in an effort to bring an end to the insanity of the trade war.

Producers themselves can have a major voice in determining whether the current crisis is to become a disaster, or it is to be seen as a challenge to be met and overcome by co-operative effort, the Unifarm president says.

Low hog prices expected to stay

U.S. inventory estimates and a strong Canadian dollar are two factors that will keep hog prices low, says an Alberta Agriculture market analyst.

"Low prices have arrived and may be with us for some time to come," says Ron Gietz. "Producers can most likely expect lower average prices in 1992 compared to 1991."

Recent U.S. swine inventory reports show a strong expansion rather than a moderate expansion. This comes on the back of already large increases in U.S. pork production that have driven slaughter hog prices down.

Based on large inventories of market hogs of all weights, hog marketings will remain at high levels through the coming fall and winter and continue to exert downward pressure on prices he says.

"The part of the USDA report that is most negative to future price prospects is the estimated large recent farrowing and future farrowing intentions. June to November totals are expected to be eight per cent more than last year, with December to February up seven per cent. As low as prices are now, this report sets the stage for still lower prices in 1992," Gietz says.

Another factor that has shifted the price outlook lower is the continuing trend of a higher Canada/U.S. exchange rate. As the dollar drifts higher, Canadian commodity prices are pressured lower.

Gietz expects average Alberta producer payments for Index 100 hogs at 1.10 per kilogram (dressed) in November, and $1.05 for December and January. Year ago prices were $1.47 for November and slightly lower at $1.40 for December.

College students working to help needy

In tune with the spirit of Christmas, Olds College students are combining efforts with the Town to collect donations for Santas Anonymous.

Starting this week, staff and students around campus will be asked to drop off a food or toy donation at one of the Santas Anonymous boxes in each building.

Second year horticulture student, Barb Welsh, is helping organize the college-end of this year's campaign. As Olds College Students' Association (O.C.S.A.) External Vice President, Welsh ensures students maintain a positive image in the community and is pleased to help with this exemplary activity.

"The Santas Anonymous

campaign is really all part of what we are trying to do here by building on the positive relationships we share with the town as a whole," says Welsh.

To boost the spirit of giving, a special challenge is being issued to all staff, faculty, and students by the O.C.S.A. to recognize the building collecting the most donations. "Donations can basically be of nonperishable food items or toys so long as the outside of the package is labeled with information to tell us if it's for a boy or girl. We take cash donations too, but they have to be brought in to the O.C.S.A. office in the Alumni Centre," Welsh explains.

Welsh is optimistic about the success of co-hosting a Santas Anonymous campaign at Olds College and expects a strong response from the student body.

"It's something, I think, students can really relate to too because they know how difficult it can be at times to live within a strict budget."

Students are also planning a campus-wide bottle drive this month with proceeds to be channelled directly into this year's Santas Anonymous fund.

Olds College Students' Association Administrator Brenda Baker is encouraged by the steps

she sees students taking in these kinds of ventures. "When the Students Association started out this year, one of our goals and objectives was to become more involved with the community, I feel this fits into our plans extremely well and am anxious to see more communication with the Town take place over similar ventures in the future," Baker says.

Because the O.C.S.A. realizes hunger and poverty will not go away after Christmas, students are planning another campaign this February. "It's nice to be able to get people to look at the idea of donating to the Food Bank at other times of the year than just Christmas," Welsh says. "It's also an opportunity for us students to give something back to the community on an on-going basis."

If you would like more information about the Santas Anonymous campaign in Olds, or about the Olds College Students Association, please contact Olds College Students' Association Administrator, Brenda Baker at (403) 556-4632.

Olds man nabbed in store theft

An Olds man has been charged in connection with one of two break, enter and thefts at an Olds jewellery store during a six-day period last month.

Olds RCMP said Ernest Edmund Botham, 24, was arrested Nov. 25 at his Olds home and charged with break, enter and theft in connection with a Nov. 21 break-in at the Treasure Chest (Olds) Ltd.

Cpl. D.V. Skappak said about $10,000 worth of goods were taken in the Nov. 21 heist which occurred sometime between 5 and 7 a.m. He said only a small amount of the stolen property has been recovered.

The Nov. 21 incident followed on the heels of a Nov. 15 break-in at the same shop, the first robbery in the shop's 18 years in Olds.

Police are continuing to look into the possibility that a third jewellery store heist in Trochu, Nov. 19, may be related to the Olds crimes.

Anyone with information is asked to contact the RCMP or Crimestoppers.

College unveils 'brand' board

Students and staff in the Ag Production/Animal Science programs are leaving unique impressions at Olds College.

A new display board, capable of holding 90 ranching brands, was unveiled Thursday, Nov. 21, 1991 and can be viewed in the main lobby of the Animal Science Building at Olds College.

Dean of Ag Production, Denis Kennedy, Ag Production Instructor, Tim Barton, and Albert Kuipers of the Olds College Stockmans Club are working together on the project.

Barton says the brand board represents a special community of individuals working in and attending Olds College. Barton hopes the practice will gradually develop into an on-going record of Alumni. "The students are working on identifying some of the older brands on our original board. Many of the ones up there are from out-of-province locations," Barton explains, "...we really get a lot of interest in the board from people who drop by during Open House. People are usually curious to see if their neighbors' brands are up there."

The brand board is actually the second of its kind being exhibited in the facility. The first display, made up over 20 years ago, includes the College's own unique brand.

Each brand on the board must be remade to a reduced size to make room for as many brands as possible on each panel. Barton, who helped organize the latest branding spiel says each brand will be accompanied by a brass plate indicating the brand's owner, the location of the ranch, and where the brand is located on the animal.

"There's a fee of $20 for each brand we burn onto the board. The fee basically covers the cost of the plaques that accompany each design and the metal we use to make the branding irons. There's no profit to be made off of this, it is just for enjoyment," Barton adds.

If you would like more information about the history of some of the brands displayed on the Brand Board, please contact: Lorrene Laursen in Animal Science at (403) 556-4653.

Olds student athlete of week

Olds College horticulture student Grazyna Koziol is starting off the 1991/92 volleyball season on the right foot.

The Alberta College Athletic Conference (ACAC) has just honored her as Athlete-of-the-Week between November 18-24.

The Broncos two season-opener matches has bolstered Koziol into a successful pattern so far for the women's volleyball '91/'92 playing season.

First, it was the 3-0 game victory over the Mount Royal College Cougars November 20, then the narrow defeat to Grant MacEwan Community College the weekend of November 23rd. Despite the defeat, Koziol managed to successfully return as many volleys as she could in the narrowly lost match. Altogether, she earned 46 spike kills and 54 points for the Broncos in the 11 games played.

Broncos Coach and Coordinator Physical Education and Recreation, Al Qually, is impressed with the calibre of talent Koziol exhibited with the Broncos so far this year. "Grazyna is a very hard worker ... she has a good sense for where the ball will land and how to best return it over the net. She also works extremely well with the rest of the team. I think this could turn out to be a very rewarding season with the winning combination of players like Grazyna and the rest of the players," says Qually.

The Broncos next home game is this Wednesday, December 4 at 6:30 p.m. If you would like more information about the Broncos performance so far this season, or about dates of upcoming matches, please contact Al Qually at (403) 556-8237.

East Olds survey completed

As many may be aware, the East Olds Study Committee completed a survey of community residents over the summer months and into early fall. The purpose of this survey was to examine the nature of change and development in the neighborhoods and to identify important issues and concerns in order that community assets may be enhanced, preserved and/or developed in East Olds.

Preliminary results have been completed with a total of 84 households participating in survey interviews. The cooperation of respondents and interviewers is much appreciated. This number represents approximately 20 percent of the total number of households in East Olds; and further approximately 70 percent of these households were homeowners and 30 percent were renters. The purpose of this survey was to identify areas of concern residents may have about the unique and historical character of their community.

The following summarizes preliminary findings of the survey:

Appreciation of East Olds

When asked to choose the most important things residents appreciate about living in East Olds, the majority of respondents indicated: Mature trees and plantings, proximity to downtown, quiet and established neighborhoods. Additionally, affordable housing was identified as another asset in East Olds.

Areas of Concern

When asked what are the areas which cause the most concern about living in East Olds; the majority stated traffic flow through the neighborhoods was a problem. Related to traffic flow, large truck movement and parking were identified as areas of concern. High on the list were the level of lane and street maintenance and the visual impact of commercial or business areas. Additionally, concern about the lack of maintenance and repair of buildings and property was noted.

Areas to be Enhanced or Created

From the survey respondents identified areas that they would like to see enhanced or created in their neighborhood. These include: developing a sense of community, creation of more small businesses (such as bed and breakfasts, tea houses or galleries) and there was support for historical and botanical walking tours in East Olds. There was concern by some that the historical nature of the buildings and trees must be preserved and therefore, a balance must be struck if such small businesses were created in order that they respect these community assets while promoting the unique architectural and botanical character of the neighborhoods.

Community Association

When questioned about support for a community association, the majority of residents surveyed were in favor. There was also interest in providing some level of commitment which ranged from three per week to one hour of volunteer time per month. A number of those surveyed would like to establish a community centre.

Fundraising response good

By Peter Crosby

Initial response to a fund-raising effort for a Carstairs area woman with a rare disease has been very good.

Gwen Day, who is offering one of her original watercolor paintings as a means of raising funds for Donna LePrieur, stricken with Congenital Lymphedema, said there was a good turnout for the Carstairs Artists Guild art show Saturday.

Day's painting was on display at this show at the Half-Century Club and she said it received a lot of rave reviews, along with one bid. Reserve bids are being accepted. Contact Gwen (337-2490) for details.

A donation jar was set up at the Carstairs show and more than $50 raised.

The jar and the painting now move to Contemporary Graphics Limited in Didsbury where they will be until Dec. 12.

All monies donated through the jar will be turned over to a savings account for LePrieur at the Carstairs Treasury Branch.

About $10,000 is needed to buy a machine that will help ease Donna's pain.

Junior ringette team now 4-0

The Cremona Juniors opened their home schedule against Sundre on Nov. 28 with an exciting game that saw the lead change hands five times.

In the first period, Sundre

Sundre the lead for the third time but Wendy Leask second of the game a minute later restored the tie. Midway through the period, Sundre ran into penalty trouble and Cremona responded with goals by Susie Grace (two) and Kim Loreth were countered by Wendy Leask, Jill Fournier and Stacey Kinch.

Early in the second, Susie Grace connected again to give power play goals by Stacey Kinch and Adrienne Blain to build a two goal lead. Susie Grace, with her fourth of the night, drew Sundre to within one but Melissa Foat made several superb saves to preserve the 6-5 win for Cremona.

The Juniors will put their perfect 4-0 record on the line when Strathmore visits on Dec. 14th at 1 p.m.

Dynamite, Novice wins

The last day of November not only marked the end of our first full month of this season, but it was also a big day for both our Dynamite and Novice teams.

In Didsbury, the Dynamites led by a four-goal performance by Dusty Ryan got by their opposition 7-3. Either goalgetters were Jesse Zinter with one, and Jason Ribi with two. Well done!

In Cremona, the Novice team powered by a natural hat-trick in the late stages of the third period by Jared Payne, won a very exciting game from Olds 2, 8-6. Aaron Robertson provided two other goals for Cremona, while Stacey Farquharson, Dusty Kinch, and Troy Gano added singles. In goal was Curtis MacRae. A good team effort!

Central Alberta tourism marketing authority set

The David Thompson Country Tourist Council is pleased to announce that the Big Country, David Thompson Country and Battle River Tourist Associations have formed a partnership to promote the area of Central Alberta encompassed by the three organizations.

The support of the Minister of Tourism, Don Sparrow and the active assistance of Alberta Tourism staff, has encouraged the three zones to proceed with their initiative and to form the Central Alberta Tourism Marketing Authority.

Utilizing existing expertise and logistical support, the Marketing Authority is managed and operated by staff delegated from the three tourist zones and is directed by a steering committee, drawn from the Executive Boards of Directors of each zone. Funded by the three zones, participating communities and private business, this organization presents a unique opportunity for the cross promotion of a wide range of both local and regional events, facilities and attractions.

Covering an area that lies between Calgary and Edmonton and extending to the Eastern and Western boundaries of the province, the Central Alberta Tourism Marketing Authority is currently drawing up the Terms of Reference for a strategic plan which will give direction for the development and marketing of motor coach tours in Central Alberta.

In addition, CATMA, in close cooperation with Alberta Tourism, will act as an umbrella organization for the three zones in the conduct of many of their promotional programs and projects, both within and outside of the province. Current programs under discussion include a Central Alberta Lure Brochure and Tour Guide Package and plans are already in place for CATMA to represent Central Alberta at the National Tour Association's Spring Tour and Travel Exchange in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

The good economic sense behind this interzone initiative is self evident and the partnership opportunities that it will offer communities, product specific routes or regions and private enterprise, will greatly enhance the promotion of tourism in Central Alberta in the years to come.

Former ACAC Athlete-of-the-Week, Grazyna Koziol, tallied 13 spike kills of her own, with Kathy Greenwood hammering down 23 and a leading stuff eight stuff blocks in both Friday's and Saturday's games. Miranda Warken and Crystal Martin contributed seven and six service aces on Saturday to help spark the win.

The women's Bronco team are now at four wins which puts them above 500 for the first time in four years. They have already set a record by scoring 16 service aces during Saturday's game against the Keyano Huskies. Tonight, the Broncos host Red Deer College in what should be a very challenging match. Ramblers can't buy a victory

By Peter Crosby

Didsbury Ramblers, newest entry in the Chinook Hockey League, remained mired in last place in the five-team league after a pair of losses in weekend play.

The Ramblers bowed twice in a home-and-home set with Innisfail Eagles, losing 7-6 in overtime at Innisfail Friday before they were thrashed 12-4 by the Eagles in the return match at the Memorial Complex Sunday.

"I wished we played as well Sunday as we did up there [at Innisfail]," said coach Al McCoy.

Both games were rough and tumble affairs, particularly the Friday game at Innisfail.

The Ramblers had roared back from a 4-1 deficit after the first period, scoring four times in the second to tie the game 5-5.

In the third, Greg Laveck's goal gave Didsbury a 6-5 lead but Innisfail got the equalizer on a power play goal by Wes Makofka at 11:35, setting the stage for overtime.

But a hooking call against Didsbury's Steve Wray at 19:45 gave Innisfail the man advantage in overtime. Makofka didn't waste any time taking advantage of the opportunity, stuffing home the winner at 19 seconds.

Captain Ed Krebs paced the Didsbury attack with three goals. Others were scored by Shane Krebs, Darcy Conley and Wray, who also added three assists.

Besides Makofka's pair, other Innisfail goals were scored by Kevin Dzuba, Keith Nachtgaele, Chad McKinnon, Rob Christensen, Thor Barabenooff.

Sunday's return match in Didsbury saw a good fan turnout. Everyone bringing a non-perishable food item for the Didsbury Christmas Helpers program was given free admission.

"We had one bad period," said McCoy, pointing to the second 20 minutes when Innisfail scored seven times to Didsbury's one.

Innisfail led 3-2 after the first and 10-3 after the second. Ed Krebs and Bryan Latimer each scored twice for the Ramblers.

Ross Jeske led Innisfail with a pair. Singles were scored by Mark Dowler, Chad McKinnon, Thor Barabenooff, Kevin Dzuba, Rob Christensen, Dwayne Simpson, Brian Key, Darcy Johannson, and Dean Edgar.

This Thursday, the Ramblers travel to Olds for a tussle with the first-place Olds Elks.

Next home game is Saturday, 8:30 p.m. against Trochu Blazers.

Bronco women turn in 'banner' effort

It was no contest for the Olds College women's volleyball team, Nov. 20, as they shut out the Mount Royal College Cougars three games to one.

Close to 150 fans turned out to see the Broncos in action, and action there was!

But while Olds College women were busy shutting out the Mount Royal Cougars, not even the talent of Bronco players Tim Madder (Horticulture) and Ron Schmidt (Ag. Production) could save the men's team. Despite their combined assault of ten spike kills, the scoreboard opened itself up to the Cougars, leading the Broncos to a three game loss.

It was definitely a night for Olds' women to shine! They exploded onto the court from the sound of the first whistle, successfully relaying volley after volley. Kathy Greenwood, an Ag

Business student at Olds College, played particularly well scoring many of the Bronco's 15 winning

Grizzlies run over by Pontiacs

By Peter Crosby

In the words of general manager Bob Clark, Olds Grizzlies had a "so-so week."

After playing very well in St. Albert last Tuesday, while skating to a 5-1 Alberta Junior Hockey League victory over the Saints, the Grizzlies returned home Friday and did an about-face.

Squaring off against the lowly first-year Bonnyville Pontiacs, the Grizzlies lost 3-2.

Olds held a 2-1 lead after two periods but Bonnyville squared matters in the first minute of the third and scored the winner with just under six minutes remaining.

"Now we know how the Calgary Flames feel playing the San Jose Sharks," said Clark. [The Flames have lost twice in two outings against the expansion Sharks].

"We let them [the Pontiacs] stay in the game," said Clark. "We outshot them 37-17 but that's not how they determine the winner."

The Pontiacs will make a return appearance in Olds this Saturday at 8 p.m. and Clark expects a different outcome. "I would venture to say that we'll be more ready for them this time," he said.

The loss kept the Grizzlies three points back of first-place Calgary Royals. Olds holds second place by five points over third-place Calgary Canucks.

Jeff Lyska and Dean Rambo were the goalscorers for Olds in the loss to Bonnyville.

Mark Ashley, Reo LaJeunesse, Jamie Price, Mark

Wobeck and Steve Opp were the marksmen in the win over St. Albert.

The Grizzlies have three games this week, including Saturday's rematch with the Pontiacs. On Wednesday, they travel to Calgary to face the Canucks. On Friday, they play at home to St. Albert. Game time is 8 p.m.

Members of the Didsbury Figure Skating Club turned in fine performances at the Chilly Willy invitational competition at Sylvan Lake.

Alicia Mullen placed first in the juvenile freeskate. Alicia, 15, is a Grade 10 student at Didsbury High School. Alicia also placed first in juvenile elements.

Natasha Kelsall placed fourth in both preliminary freeskate and preliminary elements. Natasha, 13, is a Grade 8 student at Westglen School.

Becky Kelsall, 16, a Grade 11 DHS student, was seventh in the Gold Artistic competition.

And Jayda Kelsall, 8, a Grade 3 student at Ross Ford Elementary School, was fifth in preliminary freeskate and 12th in preliminary elements.

The Chilly Willy event is one of the largest competitions held in Alberta.

Jayda and Natasha will compete this weekend in Sparwood, B.C.

All of these skaters are coached by Dena Wannamak-er.

The Didsbury Figure Skating Club is gearing up for its annual Ice Carnival to be held Feb. 23. This year's event will be extra special, it's the 30th anniversary edition. All former skaters with the club are being invited to attend and join in the theme, Down Memory Lane.

points against the Cougar's 11 in the first game.

It was nip and tuck for a while in the second game. Mount Royal College tried to come from behind at one point in the match, boosting their score to 14-14 from 8-14. The Broncos great blocking and excellent control at the net made the difference in the end, though, allowing them to take the Cougars in the second game 17-14.

Mount Royal College bounced back temporarily leading the third game 6-3. Again, the Broncos worked their way up from behind, and with the crowd chanting "sweep, sweep," hammered in enough lead points to end the match 15-13 in their favor.

At the end of the third match, it was Greenwood with nine spike kills and four blocks, and Grazyna Koziol (Horticulture) with 14 spike kills and 19 scoring points.

Coach Al Qually credits the team's enthusiastic performance Wednesday both to the players and the fans. "I know the girls were very inspired by the crowd. Both teams played extremely well and had a lot of intensity all the way through."

Unfortunately, the Broncos had difficulty maintaining their winning ways later on in the week against N.A.I.T., Friday and Grant MacEwan Community College, Saturday. After challenging matches both days, the Broncos managed only losses.

Cancer can be beaten.

Top students

Didsbury High School took top place overall for schools under 300 students in the annual Red Deer College Challenge as part of the college's open house. Helping DHS to victory were, front row: Karen Widish, Shilyn Anderson and Tracy Shewchuk; back, Greg Overwater, Jamie Gingrich, Greg Schnetder, Jason Valleau and Neil Kennedy.

La Leche League news

Carstairs La Leche League will hold its monthly meeting on Dec. 12 at 10:30 a.m. in the E.C.S. Portable (next to Pool), 21 Ave. & 21 St., Didsbury.

The fourth and final meeting in this series is just in time to share nutritious ideas for the holiday. This hectic, fast-paced season often brings with it frazzled nerves and nutritionally poor meals and snacks. To combat some of the stress of the holiday season, ideas will be shared on ways to keep family first, with emphasis on "people before things."

On the nutritional scene, poor eating habits can contribute to the "burn-out" experienced by many families. Ideas for serving healthful party foods, quick nutritious meals, plus tips on including children in preparing meals and snacks will be shared at this month's meeting.

Foods from the La Leche cookbook, "Whole Foods For The Whole Family" will be served. Those planning to attend should come prepared to sample some goodies. Bring a friend. Nursing babies and toddlers are always welcome.

La Leche League services include an extensive lending library of books on childbirth, breastfeeding, child care, parenting and nutrition. "Whole Foods For The Whole Family" may be borrowed from the library or purchased from the Group's bookstore.

For more information about breastfeeding, carpooling, directions or counseling contact Leaders Gwen Day, 337-2490 or Luanna Smith, 335-2331.

Bancroft W.I. news

Elsie Brander hosted our Nov. 12th meeting with 10 members in attendance. Each member brought an international dish. After a tasty noon meal the meeting was called to order by singing Red Sails In The Sunset. The roll call was to wear a poppy and tell of war memories. We each paid 11 cents for Remembrance Day, which was added to our A.C.W.W. jar.

The hospital this month will be done by June Lore and Jean Swanson.

Constituency minutes were read as well as several pieces of correspondence, the main one being a warning about blue star tattoos that are being sold to school children. These are tattoos of Bart Simpson, Disney characters, etc. These are laced with LSD!! We will get copies of this to our schools.

A donation will be made to a savings account in Carstairs for Donna LaPrieur, as East Carstairs resident who has Milroy's disease.

We agreed to cater to a farm sale in April.

Ten copies of Federated News will be ordered.

We discussed Didsbury and Carstairs not having recycling boxes and will look into how this is handled in other towns that have such.

Ellen Richardson gave her International Affairs paper, she chose "No Yellow Brick Road to the U.S.A." an article in the Oct. issue of Maclean's magazine. A couple from Ontario moved to Texas and found it was move expensive for schooling, phones, cable T.V., medical insurance and banking. Crime was higher and salaries were lower, the weather was nicer.

The Handicraft convenor then showed the members how a Quillo was made and some Christmas balls. We then all made gold fans to be used for our 50th anniversary.

Mary McCulloch had the lucky cup as we enjoyed left over dessert for tea. Our Christmas meeting will be held on Dec. 2. Each member is to bring two dozen cookies as well as a gift for your secret sister.

Christmas Is A-Coming
I received my first Christmas card three weeks ago. My first and immediate reaction was definitely "bah, humbug"; it can't be that time already.

Scarcity of time, money, or other family resources can take the fun out of Christmas. Planning can put it back in.

Christmas Is For the Kids

They really are only young once, so use those precious years to create memories. Still vivid in my memory is my dad pulling me on the toboggan over the hill and through the bush to find just the right Christmas tree, then attempting to keep up while we both pulled that tree carefully home.

An Advent calendar with a set time to daily open the next window will provide your child with an idea of how long they have to wait until Christmas arrives. Our favorite Advent calendar tells the complete Christmas story in 24 small installments along with the appropriate Biblical pictures.

Sanity and Shopping

Avoid being a frazzled parent with cranky kids and only half your shopping accomplished. Share babysitting with a friend. Then you can each have a kid-free day to do your shopping. At the same time plan a visit to Santa and mark it down. This could be the same day your children do their own shopping. To lessen the time, teach them to prepare a list at home of all the people they want to remember.

Wrap It up

Homemade wrapping paper, colored comics, or even brown bags can be transformed into unique Christmas wrapping paper.

Survey

Municipal Services, Property Tax

When asked about their perception regarding a comparison between the level of municipal services received in East Olds and other residential areas in town, 35 percent felt that it was a lower level (within a range of higher to lower), 38 percent also stated that they were somewhat satisfied with the taxes paid for the services received on a scale identifying levels of satisfaction.

Potential Development

The majority of residents indicated interest in receiving information in the form of brochures about the care and maintenance of mature trees and landscaping. Other areas of interest were restoration and care of older buildings and about the history of individual residences. An additional response stated interest in community history.

By-Law Enforcement

When asked about enforcing and/or strengthening by-laws regarding the operation of businesses in the residential areas the overwhelming response was in favor. Respondents indicated they would support screening of industrial areas and control of toxic emissions.

Support for controlling parking of trailers and oversized vehicles in the neighborhoods also received majority support by residents of the survey. In order to deal with other problem traffic concerns (such as truck routes, parking regulations and speed limits), those surveyed indicated that they would like the existing by-laws enforced. The majority of respondents indicated that they would like to see a minimum maintenance standard by-law introduced for residential buildings and property.

In order to preserve buildings of historical significance, just under fifty percent of the residents stated that they favor by-laws or regulations. Approximately the same percentage indicated that they favor voluntary guidelines for the architectural design of new buildings in the area. These type of guidelines could propose that new developments "fit" the existing architectural character of the neighborhood. Again approximately the same percentage felt that proper maintenance and care of mature trees and plantings would be achieved through educational programs.

Other comments received in this section of the survey included; re-routing the truck route to the north side of town and that some residents would like more information about existing Town By-Laws which affect residential living.

When asked an overwhelming (almost 90 percent) majority of those surveyed were in favor of installation of railway crossing arms on Highway 27.

Other areas which were not included in the survey but which residents indicated as areas or situations of concern ranged from the need for a cat and dog by-law, to development of a convenience/grocery store in East Olds.

Approximately 30 percent of those homeowners who cooperated in the survey indicated that if they were to purchase another home in Olds, they would again choose to locate in East Olds. Approximately 20 percent of the renters surveyed stated that if they were to purchase a home in Town, it would be also be in East Olds. A majority of the respondents are long time residents having lived in East Olds from five to over twenty years and many of those residents live in homes built prior to 1940 (approximately 40 percent).

While the findings of the East Olds Resident Survey are not representative of all community households, the results are important and reflect significant attitudes and concerns about those who participated. More detailed information regarding the survey results will be available in an upcoming report to follow after new year.

The Way of Life

Rev. Eric Betsch Redeemer Lutheran Church Didsbury

Often it is exciting when we hear about the birth of a child. There is added joy for parents, the extended family and friends who celebrate the arrival. All wish to see, touch, and actually hold the baby. The last thing on our minds would be to reject the child and to have nothing to do with the baby or its mother.

Yet we hear and learn that a long time ago in a small old town perhaps something like Didsbury, walked a teenager, pregnant and not married. People I'm sure talked about her behind her back, avoided her when she came near, and gave her looks and snubbed her. To her own fiancée the situation was not looking to great. If anyone needed a friend, someone to share her secret and be accepted without being judged, it was this young woman.

In the Holy Scriptures, St. Luke tells us that this woman was named Mary, and she was to be the mother of Jesus. She had a dear friend in her relative Elizabeth. What a relief it was for her to share some of the private and intimate details with her friend. But even the truth she had to share was still unbelievable. Her husband to be, Joseph didn't even understand her situation until an angel of the Lord spoke to him. However, Mary shared the miracle with Elizabeth, that she had not had sexual relations but she was going to be a mother. Elizabeth too shared that she was going to be a mother in her old age.

But it was not only their similar situations that drew Mary and Elizabeth together. They shared the Christ child even though Jesus was not yet born. What great blessings God poured out on Mary, her friend Elizabeth and all people including you and me today. This child would be the Savior of all mankind.

Despite Mary's suffering from humiliation, misunderstanding, and gossip, she could still praise God and speak of the great things God was doing for her.

Her faith in the Lord God enabled Mary to endure the hardship of her situation, and reinforced the joy within her concerning the soon to be born Savior Jesus. Her faith also gave her courage to share with another human being the blessings God gave her. Mary's song of praise to God is recorded in Luke 1:46-55.

Take some time to read it, and may the Lord bless you as you receive its wonderful message.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Jordan
McKenzie Peters, who passed away tragically, 5 years ago on Dec. 3, 1986.
He was 27 months old.

"In his innocence and beauty,
With his soul as pure as gold
He is nestled on the bosom
Of the God we love and know.
Beside his grave we often stand
With hearts both crushed and sore,
Yet through the gloom the sweet words come,

"Not lost, but gone before,"
Safe in the arms of Jesus, Safe on His gentle breast."

From here to Heaven above
That keeps you very close to us

As time goes by without you
We hold your memories so dear
To us you were so special
We wish you were here today.
We miss your answering when

Arnold, husband, father and Grandpa, who passed away November 28, 1990.

"It's not the tears that are shed at the time,

That tell of the hearts that are broken,
It's the silent tears in the after years,
When a loved one's name is spoken.

To the world you may have been forgotten,

To others, part of the past,
But to us who loved you so dearly,
Your memory will always last."

D.A. notes

Guest columnist
Don Milligan

In the last two articles I have talked about environmental issues that have affected the cattle industry. In the first one I spoke about methane gas and in the second article I spoke about cattle being criticized for stealing food from the world's hungry.

Raising cattle has been criticized for wasting land and water. Only 1/32 of the earth's surface is suitable for agriculture. The remainder is ocean, desert, swamp or is too cold or rocky to farm. The other interesting fact is 35% of the cultivated soil in the world is deteriorating. We are losing topsoil in the Canadian prairies alone at a rate of 3 million tonnes per year. This topsoil is being lost through wind and water erosion and by the loss of organic matter.
Another problem in Western Canada is increasing soil salinity.
Many of these things are directly related to the fact that we plowed up the grasses and legumes that were natural to this area, bulldozed down the trees and shrubs and started to farm these lands.

If we put this land back into grass, we know that some of these problems will be prevented. For example, we know that by seeding cultivated land into perennial forages, a good percentage of the wind erosion can be stopped. This is also true with water erosion. We know that by planting some legumes and deep rooted plants like that around saline seeps, that the saline situation can be stopped.
Now it comes back to the problem, what do we do with these forages? We have to have livestock, mainly ruminants, to eat them. I could argue that we could replant a lot of cultivated land back into forages and natural grasses and just leave it so that it would return to their natural state. In fact, lack of use makes these lands much less productive than well managed use.

The other thing that comes into this is that there is a large energy saving factor. If present cultivated lands are in perennial forages, harvested by livestock, the actual energy expended on those lands is going to be a lot less.

The criticisms in water against raising cattle have been that cattle use too much water and are inefficient users of water.

The figures that they come up with are somewhere in the range of 2,500 gallons to raise a pound of hamburger. The people who came up with this are calculating a number of things that are a little bit off base. In fact, it has been shown through research that it takes approximately 29 gallons of water to produce one kilogram or 2.2 pounds of hamburger. If we want to look at what we waste in comparison to cattle waste, flushing the toilet takes five gallons. A five minute shower, without the flow restriction, uses 30 gallons of water.
The argument that cattle are wasters of water is not very substantial.

One of the arguments is that the processing plants use a lot of water to clean carcasses, etc. If we look at the water in these processing plants, this water is filtered and recycled and used in other aspects i.e. water irrigation, etc. Certainly cattle can be polluters of water. I don't think I have to explain that, we can leave that to our imaginations. One product that would come in here is nitrates. With all the water testing done, there is very little water contamination by animal waste.

That is not to say that this won't be a problem in the future, or the management of that animal waste does have to be carefully monitored.

I think what I've gone through in this series of articles and talking about animal welfare and cattle and the environment, has briefly given people an idea of some of the issues that are facing the cattle industry. These are not issues that are going to go away. These are issues that are going to become larger. We depend on the consumer and the onus is on us as producers to carry on producing an excellent product and to make sure the consumer is aware that the practices that are carried out in producing this product are indeed good and sound. Each and every one of us can probably sit down and have a look at our own particular operation and maybe just do a little audit on it to make sure that we are as environmentally and welfare sound as we claim.

Elks news

Here we are again. One more article and one more mistake. My apologies to District Deputy Wayne Price for stating that he was from Calgary #4, when he belongs to Crossfield Lodge #416.

Visiting us this past week were 14 members of the Leslieville Lodge #351. Also making an appearance was Provincial Trustee Ken Morrison of Gwendale Lodge #579. There were only 20 of our own members in attendance. Leslieville's Exalted Ruler Stan Marshall presented Exalted Ruler Alex Pratt with the Fraternal Elk. He also extended an invitation to everyone to come up to Leslieville for their 40th anniversary on Dec. 7, 1991.

Talking about patrol teams, practices will be starting Jan.
5/92. Any member interested in participating in patrol can contact either Ken Anderson or Ron Patten. Don't forget the O.O.R.P. Family Christmas Party on Dec. 8. It gets underway at 2 p.m. sharp with entertainment and an appearance by Santa. There will be a potluck lunch with the meat and buns provided by the O.O.R.P.
